Morale, Welfare, and Recreation (MWR) Programs

MARINE CORPS

Marine Corps Community Service - MWR, offers an exciting array of employment opportunities including recreation and youth program leaders, child development directors, event planners, material handlers, and food & beverage professionals.

We are searching for highly-motivated people to help us serve Marines and their families, and ensure their personal and family readiness throughout their mission, career, and life events. The Marine Corps Community Services (MCCS) provides civilian employment opportunities at all of our installations. Filling of vacancies is managed at the installation (location) level, but our website covers vacancy announcements for all locations.

To see the civilian vacancies available at each Marine Corps Command location, visit <https://www.usmc-mccs.org/careers/> and click on Job Vacancies.

COAST GUARD

The mission of the Coast Guard MWR Program is to uplift the spirits of the Coast Guard Family and be an essential element of Coast Guard Readiness, Retention, and Resiliency through MWR programs and services. Visit www.dcms.uscg.mil/MWR for information on current NAF civilian positions available and how to apply. Open APF positions are posted on www.usajobs.gov and <https://dhs.usajobs.gov/>

Coast Guard Student Internship Program

Interns will have the opportunity to gain experience in all MWR programs and facilities such as gyms, pools, special events, tennis & racquetball courts, weight rooms, athletic fields, community recreation, tour & ticket offices, campgrounds, temporary lodgings, movie theaters, bowling centers and food & beverage operations to name a few. Pay, housing, meals, and travel experiences may be included depending on position and location. Intern positions are open 12 to 16 weeks (depending on school requirements), on a year-round basis. The best time for an internship is May-September when more events occur. Application deadline is 45 days in advance for best selection opportunity, and space available after that.

ARMY

When you join the U.S. Army Family and Morale, Welfare and Recreation (MWR), you gain valuable skills, earn a great salary, enjoy first-class benefits – and serve your country in an important and unique way.

At MWR, we help keep the Army's soldiers, families, and communities healthy and balanced. Our services and programs provide great ways to deal with stress, get and stay fit, learn something new, and build unit esprit de corps and personal well-being.

Across the county and throughout the world, we offer, gyms and swimming pools, intramural sports, libraries and recreation centers, facilities for arts and crafts, as well as auto maintenance, community events that focus on fun, fitness and music, and outdoor recreation facilities for camping, hiking, boating, obstacle courses, paintball – and much more. We're hiring for positions worldwide – including local recreation directors, individual program managers, and headquarters staff positions. NAVY

The Navy MWR Division administers recreation, social, and community support activities on U.S. Navy facilities worldwide. Our mission is to provide quality support and recreational services that contribute to the retention, readiness, and mental, physical and emotional well-being of our Sailors. For more information visit <https://www.navymwr.org/careers>

Student Internship Program

The Fleet and Family Readiness (FFR) Internship provides college seniors and graduate students with opportunities to apply their academic knowledge and skills in a real world work environment within a Navy community. The 12 week internship places students with a qualified mentor who guides and supports them as they learn first-hand what it takes to deliver quality programs and services to Sailors and their families. Interns earn college credit and valuable experience, while helping to enhance the quality of life of the Navy community.

Currently FFR offers civilian placements in social work, library science, business and hospitality, sports, fitness, aquatics, community recreation, youth recreation, outdoor recreation, child development, special events, tourism, marketing, and food & beverage management/culinary experiences. Students interested in a FFR internship must be enrolled in a degree program related to an FFR program. <https://www.navymwr.org/careers> and contact specific military installations.

AIR FORCE

Life in the U.S. Air Force can be hectic with continuous deployments and a high ops tempo, it's up to the local Morale, Welfare, and Recreation offices (Force Support Squadrons) to enable Airmen/Women to maximize their downtime by providing unique and impactful recreational outlets. To review Air Force MWR career opportunities visit <http://www.usajobs.gov> and <http://www.nafjobs.org/default.aspx> Individuals seeking civilian NAF career opportunities with the Air Force should inquire with the local Human Resource office in the region of interest.

Air Force Management Trainee Program

The NAF Management Trainee (MT) Program develops individuals who can deal effectively and ethically with change, complexity, and problem solving. These entry-level positions support the Air Force community. U.S. citizenship is required. Positions are located at Air Force bases throughout the United States with outplacement available worldwide. For more information visit <http://www.nafjobs.org/nafcareers.aspx> and click on NAF Careers.

Air Force Student Internship Program

Military Recreation Career Opportunities abound for each military service.

Military Recreation is vital to readiness and mission accomplishment. Military Recreation provides programs, services, and activities for all aspects of life in the military community for those deployed abroad and those serving at home. Military Recreation addresses the physical, cultural and social needs and general well-being of service members and their families, providing community support systems that make Department of Defense (DOD) installations temporary hometowns for a mobile military population. MWR programs include clubs, libraries, recreation centers, marinas, organized sports, golf, physical fitness, aquatics, outdoor recreation, equipment rental, leisure travel, and other related activities. Every branch of the US Military has its own Military Recreation program. Positions maybe funded with either appropriated funds (APF) or non-appropriated funds (NAF), with different application methods for each.

In addition to career opportunities, Military Recreation-related student internships are available through certain military branches/installations.
